

Masters in Theology: Contemporary Ethics

(Two years Part-Time)

Pontifical University
St Patrick's College
Maynooth

In an increasingly globalized world we are confronted with complex questions regarding social justice, health care, the environment, the role of the media in politics. This two-year part-time taught Masters explores the interface between the Christian theological tradition and contemporary society. It provides a comprehensive analysis of current ethical issues in a dynamic learning environment.

WHY MAYNOOTH?

- A community of learning that draws on a long and distinguished tradition of scholarship and pastoral practice.
- A comprehensive theological library.
- An international Faculty, with an extensive range of publications.
- A beautiful, historic campus with state-of-the-art facilities.
- Located just 25km from Dublin city centre.

STRUCTURE:

One day per week

PROGRAMME REQUIREMENTS:

The successful completion of six modules and a 15,000 word thesis over two years.

MODULES ON OFFER INCLUDE:

- Spirituality, Religion and Contemporary Healthcare Ethics
- Environmental Ethics and Social Justice
- Media Ethics
- Moral Theology: Foundations
- Re-Sourcing: Theology and Renewal in the Twentieth Century
- History of Christian Thought

PROGRAMME DIRECTOR:

Dr Suzanne Mulligan

Department of Moral Theology,
Pontifical University, St Patrick's College,
Maynooth, Co. Kildare.

Tel: 01 4747665.

Email: suzanne.mulligan@spcm.ie

FIND OUT MORE Admissions Office,
Pontifical University,
St Patrick's College,
Maynooth, Co. Kildare
+353 (0) 1 708 4772
admissions@spcm.ie

www.maynoothcollege.ie